

Curriculum Vitae

Prénom Nom : James LINTON
Statut : Professeur
Equipe : Capital Environnemental
Tél. : 05 55 43 55 59
Bureau : A011 FLSH

Sujet de thèse :

Histoire de l'idée de l'eau dans la pensée moderne.

Axes / thématiques de recherche :

L'histoire de l'eau
L'histoire de l'hydrologie
Gestion de l'eau en France
Gestion de l'eau au Canada

Terrains de recherche :

France (Bassin versant de la Dordogne et du Têt)
Canada (Ontario du Sud et Nord du Québec)

Projets et Programmes de recherche :

[2013-2018] CHAIRE, Capital environnemental et gestion durable des cours d'eau
[2013-2014] CHAIRE, Les Services Écosystémiques et la Gestion de l'Eau
[2014-2017] CHAIRE, Étude critique de la continuité écologique des cours d'eau
[2015-2017] CHAIRE, La résilience aux inondations en question avant et après la construction des grands barrages
[2015-2017] Mieux comprendre les dimensions culturelles de la rivière pour une meilleure gestion

Organisations et participation à des manifestations scientifiques :

Co-organisation de l'atelier «Services Écosystémiques et la gestion durable des cours d'eau», Université de Limoges, Juin, 2014.
"Resolving Water Conflicts in the 21st Century: From Water Wars to Cooperating with Water"
Présenté à the 10th Beijing Forum, Beijing, China. October 31-November 3, 2013.
"Humanizing the Hydrologic Cycle: Evolving views of the relation between water and society"
Présenté à the annual conference of the International Water History Association, Montpellier, France. June 26-28, 2013.
"An Idea Flows Through Space and Time: The Fate of the Global Water Balance". Présenté à the International Conference of Historical Geographers, the University of Prague, Prague, Czech Republic, August 9, 2012.
"What is Water? The History of a Modern Abstraction." Présenté à "Author meets Critics "What is Water? The History of a Modern Abstraction"", Association of American Geographers, Seattle WA, 2011.
"The Hydrologic Cycle and the Hydrosocial Cycle: From Management to Governance of Water."
Présenté à the Annual Meeting of the Association of American Geographers, Washington, DC. April 17, 2010.

“The Right to What? Water, Rights, People and the Relation of Things” Présenté à The Right To Water, an international conference held at the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs, Syracuse University, Syracuse New York, 29-30 March, 2010.

“Beasting the Picture: Petromyzon marinus (the sea lamprey) in the Great Lakes and the Production of Aquatic Space”. Présenté à the Annual Meeting of the Canadian Association of Geographers, Carleton University, Ottawa, May 27, 2009.

“The Hydrosocial Cycle and the Politics of Drinking”. Présenté à the Annual Meeting of the Association of American Geographers, Las Vegas, Nevada. March 23-27, 2009.

“Invasive Spaces: An historical geography of the sea lamprey, Petromyzon marinus, in the Great Lakes basin”. Présenté à the Annual Meeting of the Canadian Association of Geographers, Université Laval, Québec, May 23, 2008.

““Man and the hydrologic cycle is a story in itself...” (but not the whole story!)”. Présenté à the Annual Meeting of the Association of American Geographers, Boston, MA, April 15, 2008.

Brooks, David B. and Jamie Linton. “Less is More: Approaching water security and sustainability from the demand side”. Presented by David Brooks at “Natural Disasters and Water” a NATO Advanced Research Workshop, Yerevan State University, Yerevan, Armenia. 18 – 22 October 2007.

“Water as a Geographical Solution”. Présenté à the Annual Meeting of the Association of American Geographers, San Francisco, CA, April 18, 2007.

“The Social Nature of Natural Resources: The Case of Water”. Présenté à the Annual Meeting of the Canadian Association of Geographers, University of Western Ontario, May 31-June 4, 2005.

Séminaires et ateliers

“Qu’est-ce que l’eau?”, Conférence donné à l’occasion de la Journée d’étude consacrée à la question «Qu’est-ce que l’eau?» organisée par la Chaire Industrielle : Rationalités, Usages et Imaginaires de l’Eau, Université Jean Moulin (Lyon 3), Lyon, France, 11 juin 2013.

“Le droit à quoi? L’eau, les droits, les êtres humains, et les relations entre les choses”, présenté à l’atelier «Justice environnementale et droit à l’eau», Université Paris Ouest Nanterre La défense, 22 mai 2013.

“L’apprentissage social comme une réponse à l’incertitude hydrologique” (Social learning as a response to hydrological uncertainty) , presentation given at the ART-Dev seminar, Université Paul Valéry, Montpellier, France, September 20, 2012.

“The Prospects of Mediation in a Prospective Israeli-Palestinian Water-Sharing Agreement”, seminar given at Mixed Research Unit ART-Dev., Université Paul Valéry, Montpellier, France, July 19, 2012.

“Hydrological Uncertainty: Causes and Responses”, invited presentation given at “The Ethnography of Water Politics”, Department of Anthropology, University of Copenhagen, Copenhagen Denmark, June 12, 2012.

“Normalizing Conflict as a Response to Hydrological Uncertainty”, presentation given at the international workshop on “Governing Water in the Face of Uncertainty”, The Hebrew University, Jerusalem, May 16, 2012.

“The hydrologic cycle and the hydrosocial cycle”, invited seminar given at Durham University, UK, June 17, 2011.

“Politics of modern water”, invited seminar given at the Open University, Milton Keynes, UK, June 15, 2011.

“Politics of modern water”, invited seminar given at Royal Holloway, University of London, UK, June 14, 2011.

“How modern water generates inequality”, invited seminar given at Université Montpellier, France, June 9, 2011.

“Hydrosystems and Hydropolitics”, invited seminar given at Université Paris Ouest Nanterre La Défense, France, June 7, 2011

Invited speaker to introduce the documentary film, “Waterlife: The Great Lakes”, Earth Day, Queen’s University, April 2011.

Invited panellist, “Water Justice”, Queen’s University, March 2011.

“Water and Opportunity: a theme for transborder research”, talk given at Transborder University Network (TRUN) Consortium Meeting II, Wayne State University, Detroit, MI., November 2010.

“The History and the Mystery of Water”. Culture and Company Speaker Series, Kingston, Ontario. August, 2010.

“Hydrosocial Dialectics and the James Bay Hydroelectric Development”, Public lecture given at Sir Wilfred Grenfell College, Memorial University, Corner Brook, Newfoundland, October 2009.

“ Le cycle hydrologique et le cycle hydrosocial : gestion et gouvernance de l’eau”. Public lecture given at l’Université de Montréal, Montréal Québec. September 2009.

“The History of Public Water Services in Kingston”, Culture and Company Speaker Series, Kingston, Ontario. August, 2009.

“Water and Limestone”. Public lecture convened by the Kingston Historical Society, Kingston Ontario. May 2009.
